In The News...

Sarah Brady to Ashcroft: We Must Allow Gun Records in Terrorist Investigations

Sarah Brady, Chair of the Brady Campaign to Prevent Gun Violence, issued a statement in response to a December 6 article in The New York Times about Attorney General John D. Ashcroft's decision to bar the FBI from checking records to determine whether any of the people detained after the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks had bought guns.

"John Ashcroft's decision to prevent the FBI from checking gun records is proof of what we have said since he was first nominated to become Attorney General: he is beholden to the gun lobby and he places his allegiance to them above the best interests of the United States."

"It is absurd that he would use every possible tool to investigate these suspects, except using existing records to determine whether they bought guns."
